Coroner Decides Cause of Death to Be Accidental-An Employe of Navy Yard.

The dead body of Mr. James A. Marceron was found in bed at his home. No. 416 4th street southeast, between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning. He was suffocated by gas. Coroner Carr gave a certificate of accidental death.

Mr. Marceron, who was sixty-nine years of age, occupied a room on the second floor of his residence. It was his habit to close down both of the windows in his room and also to lock the door. For about two next month. Mr. Tuttle is well known in | years he had been a great sufferer from insomnia, which resulted in extreme nervous ness. The appearance of the room after Voorhees' private secretary. He occupied the door was forced open indicated that Mr. Marceron had arisen during the night for the purpose of taking some medicine, and that, after turning off the gas, he had accidentally turned it on again, the key being very loose.

Mr. Marceron was for many years and at the time of his death a model maker at the navy yard, and he constructed the models of nearly all the modern ships of the United States navy, many of them being on exhibition at the Navy Depart-

DEMAND FOR MISSIONARIES. Subject Discussed by Mr. W. D. Ruffin

and Others. A missionary meeting was held yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's A. M. E. Church southwest under the auspices of the Sunday school, with Mr. G. W. Smallwood in the chair and Mr. M. Adams musical director. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Wortham, offered prayer for the Holy Spirit to be sent down as missionary to the southland "to build up friends through whom justice may be meted out to all men alike in this Christian land of ours." Mr. F. G. Manly delivered an address on mission work.

Mr. R. D. Ruffin read the paper of the afternoon.

"There never was a time in the history of this country," said he, "when religious missionary work should be in greater demand than at present. This country boasts of its religious liberty; of its great civiliza-When other nations begin to ster beyond the bounds of religious liberty and religious civilization, this power calls them to halt. Therefore, this government of itself has been looked upon as the great missionary power of the earth, while at its doors we need more missionaries than any other nation that exists. We need missionaries to go into our states; I mean the missionaries who represent Jesus Christ and humanity. There are some in Africa who will catch a human being, kill him and eat him because they think it is right. We have some in America who will catch a human being, chain him to a post and there, in sight of thousands of women, bisect him burn him, and when the flesh is burned to ashes raise a howl for his bones, to be held as souvenirs. Africa has not reache this point of cruelty; Cuba was far from it! The people of the Philippine Islands have never dreamed of it. Still we are called the great civilizing power."

Mr. Ruffin was followed by Dr. C. H.

Childes, who said if the Christian influences were properly exerted by our churches from the pulpits, the crimes that are now being perpetrated will cease, but this must be done by white Christian ministers, as well as the colored. Constant agitation, he said, will cause the executive power to act.

Farewell, dear father, a long farewell;
For us you have labored many years.
You have always striven to do your best,
But now you have gone to take your rest.
Tired father, gone to rest,
Be thy sleep by heaven blest;
Clasp time eyes in slumber deep,
Darling father, rest in peace.
Loved in life, in death remembered.
